

Network Enforcement Act Report: January - December 2020

Information on the general efforts to prevent illegal actions

At SoundCloud we go to great lengths to ensure our platform is free from illegal content. From the moment a user signs up to use SoundCloud they are required to agree to our Terms of Use and Community Guidelines. Our Terms of Use clearly state that users are not permitted to upload any illegal content or content that violates these Terms to the platform.

As a further means of restricting the actions of potential bad actors, it's not possible for users to upload audio content or send messages or comments without first confirming their email address. We also ensure that most email addresses from 'throw away' email providers are blocked from signing up to the platform. These measures help ensure that users of the platform are genuine actors and guards against those attempting to spread illegal content with anonymity.

In the event that users chose to upload content in violation of our Terms of Use, report forms are available on the platform. These enable people to report any content for review, leading to removal where necessary.

We have also developed automated systems that aim to detect illegal imagery. When these systems detect illegal imagery, the account associated with the uploaded content is immediately removed and suspended from the platform - ensuring the content is no longer available. In cases of erroneous suspension, users are able to contact us via our report forms to have the account reinstated. Additionally we work with a third party organisation to flag illegal and hateful content to us that has been uploaded to SoundCloud and is being shared outside of our platform.

Our complaint procedure and decision-making process

We have developed and implemented a robust procedure for dealing with complaints regarding illegal content or other content that violates our Terms of Use.

The following resources are available to help users decide if content should be reported as a violation of our Terms of Use or German law:

- Terms of Use
- Community Guidelines
- Help Center articles
- German Criminal Code/Deutsches Strafgesetzbuch, 'StGB'

Where someone finds content that is in violation, they can report it to the Trust & Safety Team via our online report buttons or Help Center report forms.

All reports are then reviewed manually by our Trust & Safety Team using our Terms of Use, internal guidelines and German law (German Criminal Code/Deutsches Strafgesetzbuch, 'StGB', in particular) as criteria for deciding the outcome for each report.

Any reported content found to be in violation will be removed and the uploader of the content will be issued with a warning via email. All warnings issued will clearly state which section of our Terms of Use has been violated by the content in question. Likewise, the complainant will be informed of the outcome and the reasoning behind this via email.

Any accounts deemed to be dedicated to uploading illegal or violating content will be permanently suspended and the account owner notified of this via email. We consider an account to be dedicated to this type of content if it can be clearly identified as solely existing to provide a platform for this specific content.

At the point of suspension, the email address used to create the account is blacklisted, preventing further accounts being created using the same email address.

All accounts affected by the removal of content have the right to reply and appeal. Any requests to reconsider a decision made by the Trust & Safety Team will in turn be reviewed by the team in the same manner as the initial report - being escalated through the Business & Legal Affairs Team representative where necessary.

Where reports are received and the content is found not to be in violation, we respond to the complainant via email to explain the reason for not removing the content.

Who is handling the complaints

Complaints concerning illegal and violating content are handled by the Trust & Safety Team. At the time of publication the Trust & Safety Team consists of four employees:

- Senior Trust and Safety Manager
 - In role since September 2013
 - Education Level - University Degree
 - Part of the Business & Legal Affairs (BALA) Team reporting to Director, BALA
